

PROFESSOR ROBERT GLENNON LECTURES – FEBRUARY 2012

In conjunction with the Royal Society of New Zealand, Water New Zealand has arranged a series of public lectures by Professor Robert Glennon in early February 2012 on the crisis facing the United States in the management of its freshwater. These have associated international parallels. The schedule of public lectures is:

HAMILTON

Wednesday 1 February 6.00pm,

University of Waikato, Concert Chamber, Gallagher Academy of Performing Arts.

The Academy is situated on the University of Waikato campus four kilometres to the east of Hamilton city centre. Parking is available via Gate 2b, Knighton Road, Hamilton, with the Academy a two minute walk around the campus lake.

WELLINGTON

Wednesday 8 February 6.00pm

Victoria University, Rutherford House Lecture Theatre 1, Pipitea Campus, Wellington (entrance off Bunny Street, by central bus station)

CHRISTCHURCH

Thursday 9 February 6.00pm

University of Canterbury, C1 Room.

Robert Glennon is the Morris K. Udall Professor of Law and Public Policy in the Rogers College of Law at the University of Arizona. A recipient of two National Science Foundation grants, he serves as Water Policy Advisor to Pima County, Arizona; as a member of American Rivers' Science and Technical Advisory Committee; and as a commentator and analyst for various television and radio programs. He is also a Huffington Post blogger.

Further information on Professor Glennon can be found at <http://rglennon.com/>

Water New Zealand and the Royal Society of New Zealand acknowledge AGMARDT for its generosity in funding Professor Glennon's visit to New Zealand.

If you would like to attend any of the above meetings please email Hannah Smith at Water New Zealand.