

AGREEMENT BETWEEN CHARTERED INSTITUTION OF WATER AND ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT (CIWEM) AND WATER NEW ZEALAND, THE TRADING NAME OF THE NEW ZEALAND WATER AND WASTES ASSOCIATION INCORPORATED

Preamble

- There are a number of CIWEM members in New Zealand who are members of Water New Zealand. Some New Zealand based members of CIWEM are not members of Water New Zealand and vice versa.
- Both organisations provide unique benefits for their members. Amongst other things, CIWEM provides formal training and certification in water and environmental management. Water New Zealand promotes integrated policies and the development and exchange of knowledge in the water environment, to benefit members and society.
- CIWEM are looking for opportunities for their New Zealand members to hold events locally, and to provide training for their locally based non-engineer members.
- CIWEM and Water New Zealand wish to work together for mutual benefit, and to make the unique benefits each organisation provides, more readily available to their members, irrespective of membership status.

Working together for mutual benefit

Amongst other things, Water New Zealand and CIWEM agree to the following:

- The holding of joint events.
- Water New Zealand promoting local CIWEM activities.
- Opening Water New Zealand networking events to members of CIWEM.
- Water New Zealand providing administrative support for local CIWEM activities.
- Facilitation of a CIWEM forum at Water New Zealand annual conferences.
- The use of each other's intelligence networks to source speakers for events.
- Links to promote CIWEM chartership for Water New Zealand members as a route for professional development.
- The use of Water New Zealand's databases to find suitable mentors for local CIWEM members' professional development.

- Water New Zealand members being provided with access to CIWEM technical information, recognizing that some will be restricted.

Communications

For the purpose of implementing this agreement it is agreed that relevant communications shall be in electronic format, to avoid actual or potential loss of revenue associated with hard copy.
